

In 1983 he graduated from Irkutsk State Technical University with a degree in Architecture. In the period 1983-1994 he worked at the Technical University as a teacher, then as a senior researcher. In the period 1995-2005 he worked as an architect in design organizations in Irkutsk. Since 2006, he has been working as an associate professor at the Department of Architectural Design of Irkutsk National Research Technical University.

He completed an internship in landscape and urban planning at the University of California at Berkeley in the USA in 2003. In 2009 he worked as a visiting professor at the Department of Urban Planning at the Technical University of Dresden (Germany). In 2010, he completed an internship at the Department of Theory and History of Architecture at the St. Petersburg State University of Architecture and Civil Engineering.

In 2017, he graduated from the Master's degree program at the Irkutsk National Research Technical University with a degree in Urban Planning.

Author of projects of territorial planning of tourism on the coast of Lake Baikal, including the Plan for the Development of Tourism on the Circum-Baikal Railway (1995) and the Plan for the Development of Tourism of the city of Baikal and the adjacent zone (2000).

Specializes in the field of interdisciplinary interaction in urban planning, design of cultural objects, restoration and reconstruction of architectural heritage and landscape architecture.

Author of more than 80 scientific and popular scientific publications, including the book "Irkutsk Architects" (2011).

Winner of architectural competitions and architectural awards.