

I was born on March 7, 1956 in the Irkutsk region. After graduating from high school, he entered the Irkutsk Agricultural Institute at the Faculty of Agricultural Electrification. After graduating in 1978, he received a degree in electrical engineering. He worked at the Department of Electricity Application in Agriculture since 1978 as an assistant, senior lecturer, associate professor, professor. From 1986 to 1989, he studied full-time at the Leningrad Agricultural Institute and successfully defended his PhD thesis in 1989. In 2002 he defended his doctoral dissertation, in 2003 he received the academic title of associate professor. In 2005, he received the title of corresponding member, and in 2008-the title of Academician of the Russian Academy of Natural Sciences (RAE). At the Agrarian University, he worked as Head of the Department of Electricity Supply, Dean of the Faculty of Energy, Vice-Rector for Research. Since the end of 1999, he has been working at the Department of Power Supply and Electrical Engineering of the Irkutsk National Research Technical University as a professor.